Harbinger

A while back, I did a post on Harbinger, one of my favorite shops in Los Angeles. In the intervening months, the fabulous proprietors, Joe Lucas and Parrish Chilcoat, have moved to a larger (and tonier) location on the happening La Cienega corridor. Their new space is a total treasure trove and I was shrieking out loud like a little schoolgirl as I moved through, discovering one gorgeous thing after another. There are perfectly composed niches throughout the store, showcasing the delicious range of objects on sale to their fullest potential. I want to live in these vignettes!

They carry an enormous range of lines from Saxor Paris's classic prints:

↳ Kala Landa's Egyptian inspired theme:

To Coleen Rider of Coleen & Company's fab new line of furnishings (i am obsessed with this green tortoise table - yum!)

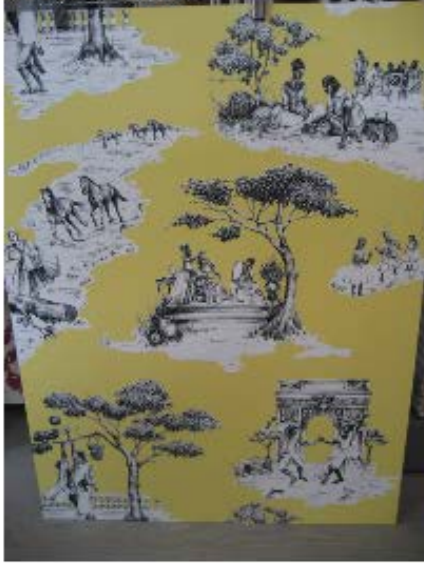

To Sheila Bridges's dynamic wallpaper (please enjoy this first shot of their chic "water closet" awashed in her dynamic stripes).

And her funky, urban take on a classic tale.

To Hillary Thomas's bedding and gemlike finials (so pretty!):

To discoveries from their travels like these hammam towels in a tangy assortment of colors.

And these delicate, hand-painted dishes in watercolor-y pastels:

And graphic, black and white:

I could go on and on about the mad style on display at this duo's new spot but I think it's best if you head over there and see for yourself (or give them a visit online). Harbinger, 752 North La Cienega - 310.858.6884. Enjoy!
